

Milind Dhond, MD

---

Dr Dhond serves as the Medical Director of Cardiovascular medicine at NorthBay Healthcare in the Bay area. He also serves as the Director of the Echocardiography Lab at NorthBay hospital and chairs the Heart Failure strategic planning meeting looking at improving the management of heart failure patients and reducing their admission rates.

He is a Clinical Professor at UC Davis and is the author of numerous publications on pre-clinical and clinical research studies on which he has also been a co-investigator. In addition he has published several book chapters on Cardiology.

He is a co-founder of Frye medical Inc that develops novel and innovative products for use in the Cath lab and hospital. He holds several patents related to these products

He received his medical degree from the University of London, England. He completed residency in Internal Medicine at the University of Pittsburgh followed by cardiology fellowship at University of California, Davis.

In addition he is a 6th degree black-belt in Jujitsu and runs a martial arts school that has trained numerous National gold medal winners. He was on the steering committee for the US National Jujitsu championships in 2016.

He also travels nationally and internationally teaching Yoga and meditation and is the author of several books on this subject.